

Ecclesfield School CEIAG Policy

Ecclesfield School is committed to providing all students with high quality Careers Education, Information, Advice and Guidance (CEIAG) appropriate to their age and ability. We will challenge low expectations and aspirations based on stereotypes; as a school are fully committed to promoting equality and diversity for all. The Careers department and curriculum leaders are working in partnership with employers in order to provide mentorship and experience of the world of work, to increase the relevance of their studies. In due course this will play a key role in facilitating social mobility.

Through a planned programme of Careers Education students will be provided with the opportunity to acquire and develop the necessary skills to research, analyse, and understand careers related information. Students will be made aware of the value of learning, education, and qualifications, and they will be informed of the opportunities available to them in work, further education, and training.

Accessible careers related resources are provided to encourage independent research, and a fully qualified Careers Adviser is available to assist students in making informed decisions about their future.

PSCHE curriculum subjects complement each other, and the Careers module is no exception. All subjects endeavor to enable students to develop an awareness of their strengths and weaknesses, and to foster an attitude of self-reliance, initiative, reliability and confidence. This will ensure that students are able to cope with the changes that occur at various stages of their lives.
