October TeachMeet

The Lead Teachers organised a fantastic Halloween themed SBP session in LMH to showcase literacy across subject areas. The Maths Department were the winning team!

T&L Briefings

Tuesday briefings were used to SBP for both literacy and live feedback. Thank you to staff for presenting and sharing their ideas ☺

Effective questioning

- Identifies areas for development and misconceptions
- Supports students' learning
- Students know it is okay to be wrong
- Promotes progress in lessons
- No opt-out option available

Live feedback in the classroom

Step 3-Using the visualisers go over the work sheet and students mark in green and correct in purple!

T&L Bookclub

22 colleagues were involved in the Ecco Book Club. Each group read a different book across a couple of months. Reviews were completed and T&L ideas were shared with the group during a celebration lunch.

Remote Teaching

Since March 23rd we've all been teaching in ways we've never taught before.

As a school we've rapidly adjusted and embraced remote teaching through using a wide range of programmes to support our students to learn at home such as Google Classroom, Teams, Hegarty, Educake, Seneca, Loom and Google Drive etc. Well done everyone ☺

T&L Certs

Hundreds of T&L Certs have been posted home to our students for working incredibly hard from home during this time.

Live Feedback and Visualisers

In September we launched our Live Feedback policy and visualisers in all classrooms. Fantastic examples of whole class feedback, modelling exam answers and displaying students work have been shared. Live feedback and using the visualiser will continue to be an integral part of our day to day teaching as we move into September.
