staying active. I also hope that you have had time to reflect on how what has gone well for you during your first year at secondary school. Miss Noone and I, along with your form tutors have been doing the same as we have been thinking about our Year 7 End of Year Rewards. This will be the last my student bulletins before you return to school as Year 8 in September. Next week I will send you a presentation with our yearly awards. We would normally meet together in the hall and celebrate the many successes you have had both individually, and as a year group. We will do this 'virtually' this year but I look forward to us being back together in our school as a team. Have a great week.

This week marks the 72nd birthday of our amazing National Health Service. I know that some of your parents and carers work for this amazing organisation. A huge Ecco THANK YOU to those people for everything you have done and will continue to do for our community.
